WEST VIRGINIA LAW REVIEW

Symposium:

“A Look at Brown v. Board of Education in West Virginia: Remembering the Past, Examining the Present, and Preparing for the Future”

February 21 – 22, 2005
West Virginia University College of Law

In celebration of the 50-year anniversary of the Brown I and II decisions, the West Virginia Law Review hosted a two-day symposium entitled, “A Look at Brown v. Board of Education in West Virginia: Remembering the Past, Examining the Present, and Preparing for the Future.” The symposium engaged national and state speakers in a series of lectures discussing the impact of Brown v. Board of Education in West Virginia with emphasis on education, healthcare, criminal/juvenile justice and employment and economic development.

The following manuscripts are based on speeches delivered during the symposium. Additional materials from the symposium are on file with the West Virginia University College of Law Library including a list of speakers, a full transcript and a DVD recording from February 21-22, 2005. Additional remarks from the symposium are forthcoming in Volume 2, Issue 1 of the Africalogical Perspectives Journal.
